Bowland Court lies in the heart of Clitheroe, with views over Pendle Hill, historic home of the Pendle witches.

Bowland Court has fibre optic broadband to each apartment available, allowing the fastest possible broadband should our residents require it. Clitheroe is a busy and thriving market town ideally situated in the heart of the Ribble Valley, surrounded by glorious unspoilt countryside. Popular with visitors all year round, it is overlooked by a castle whose Norman keep is said to be the second smallest in England. Clitheroe's many shops include nationally famous wine merchants and sausage specialists. Cultural attractions include the splendid Carnegie public library and the Grand – a state of the art multi-media and arts venue complete with cinema and café. Concerts are frequent: both locally and in Manchester and Preston.
